

HI-LO

HILLSDALE - LAKE OSWEGO REGIONAL TRAIL

The HI-LO Trail

The HI-LO Trail to Lake Oswego is a pedestrian trail. It's neither accessible nor a bicycle route. Follow the small HI-LO signs along the entire six-mile route. Several large trailhead maps placed along the route can help you get to the next map.

To Lake Oswego

6.3 miles

Follow the HI-LO signs along the sidewalk between Wells HS and Rieke School to Vermont. Cross Vermont, follow 13th Ave to Chestnut Dr. Turn right, walk downhill to Bertha Blvd, turn left crossing Chestnut Dr, then right crossing Bertha to the Stephens Creek Nature Park. The next map is on the kiosk at the park entrance.

Welcome to the HI-LO Trail

The HI-LO trail is a 6.3-mile walk between Hillsdale and Lake Oswego. You'll encounter forests, restored wetlands, a waterfall, and spectacular views. Parts of the trail pass through residential areas, so be careful when crossing roads. You'll find cafés and eateries along the way.

Things to see in Hillsdale

Farmers market

Red Electric bridge

Food and shopping

Hillsdale aerial view

A Deeper Look

More Info:
www.swtrails.org/hilo1

Fulton Dairy Trucks

Portland's Hillsdale neighborhood traces its roots to 1850's pioneer John Addison Slavin. In 1871, the O&C Railroad came to the area establishing Bertha Station and a small residential community. When the railroad ceased operation in 1929, the area, renamed Hillsdale, evolved into a thriving dairy community. After annexation into the city of Portland in the late 1940's, the dairy families transitioned their land into schools, housing and commercial space, shaping modern Hillsdale. Scan the QR Code above to learn more.

Regional Trail Partners:

